Skaters Show the Way in Revival All Over the Country.

JEWTRAW A SENSATION

Youngster Leads Amateur Stars-Others Developing Fast.

Tee skating, especially speed competition, felt the effects of the world war more than any other pastime and not until all the other sports were again in a healthy condition did the physicians pay any attention to ice skating.

aThis glorious pastime became a lost art in the European countries during the war, and if the United States hadn't settled the issue as quickly as it did the sport would soon have become passe in this country. Ice skating was something that had no bearing on the war and therefore it was soon shelved. Now, however, the sport has received first aid treatment and is undergoing a revival the world over, and the ruces early in February in Christiania, Norway, between "Bobby" McLean of Chieago and Oscar Mathleson of Christiania. Norway, for the world's professional los skating title should do much to kindle the fires of interest. McLean has sailed for Norway and hopes to prove to Norwegians that America is supreme in ice skating as in other sports.

Right at home we are promised the busiest ice skating season in history. The Intercollegiate Hockey League is again in full awing, as is the Canadian Intercollegiate Hockey League and the Canadian Professional Hockey League

Alliance With Canada.

One of the things that will do much to help skating is the alliance of the hockey and skating associations of the United States and Canada. This alliance means a resumption of the internal ice sports for championship honors. With this alliance hockey and other ice sports will come under the joint control of the International Skating Union of America and the Canadian hockey associations. Plans are being arranged to permit of a series of skating and hockey competi-

The Western Skating Association, which directs the skating activities in the middle West, is making extensive changes in the rules and regulations governing amateur ice skating for the purpose of building up more competition and putting the sport on a higher plane. One of the things the Western Associa-tion intends to do is to adopt the A. A. U, rule with reference to the length of time an athlete must compete unattached after leaving a club. Some skaters have competed for as high as six clubs in the course of a season. Under the new rule a skater leaving one club will have to wait one year before he can wear colors of another club. This is a ep in the right direction. Is doing
